Honey Fruit Concentrates

Hundreds of Brands All Over the World

Bees have an important role in the protection of ecological balance, as well as an important role in every aspect of our orchards. While bees collect pollen and nectar from fruit trees in order to meet their nutritional requirements, they contribute to the fertilization of the fruits and increase the product. Because of these features, bees are our small but hard-working colleagues. In addition to contributing to the growth of fruits, they also produce honey, which is a useful and healthy food for us.

Honey, which is one of the most important nutrients for our health and strengthening of our immune system, has been mixed with our natural fruit concentrates to make it more attractive.

In addition, we have turned our honey into a non-drip, easily spreadable cream honey with a special mixing technique.

You should definitely try our fruit concentrate products with honey, which are 100% natural and high in nutritional value, which will be the favorite product of your children!

In our honey fruit concentrate products, strawberries, which are loved not only by children but also by adults, peach, which is called miracle fruit in Far Eastern countries, and sour cherry concentrates, which are one of the healthiest red fruits with their antioxidant and high Vitamin C content, are used. In addition, with a natural color content, the black carrot in strawberry and sour cherry products helps our products to preserve their color.
